RESPONSIVE READING

- Minister Praise ye the Lord, for it is good to sing praises unto our God; for it is pleasant, and praise is comely.
- Congregation Sing unto the Lord with thanksgiving; sing praise upon the harp unto our God.
- Minister Great is our Lord and of great power; His understanding is infinite.
- Congregation Praise Him for His mighty acts; praise Him according to His excellent greatness;
- Minister Praise Him with the sound of the trumpet; praise Him with the psaltery and harp.
- Congregation Praise Him with the timbrel and dance; praise Him with stringed instruments and organs.
- Minister Praise God in His sanctuary; praise Him in the firmament of His power.
- Congregation Let everything that hath breath praise the Lord!
- Minister The glory of the Most High is uppermost in our minds as we have met to worship Him and to dedicate this splendid instrument; therefore to hymns of radiant praise, that the love of devoted hearts may find joyous expression.
- Congregation We dedicate this organ.
- Minister To songs which move the heart to yearn after holiness,
- Congregation We dedicate this organ.
- Minister To strains of penitence and invitation, that sinners may awaken and seek Jesus Christ, the Saviour,
- Congregation We dedicate this organ.
- Minister To the music of the masters, that we may feel with them the flowing tides of exalted emotion,
- Congregation We dedicate this organ.
- Minister To our gracious God Himself, Whom we praise and adore, that we may honor Him unceasingly,
- Congregation We dedicate this organ.

DEDICATORY PRAYER

Heavenly Father, Creator of all harmony, beauty and truth, who has set the spheres to singing in their courses and hast put a melody in the hearts of men, be pleased to accept our worship in the offering of this organ to Thy praise and glory. May the magnificent music and sweet strains of its plenary pipes summon forth the adoration of Thy people for Thee, the Triune God. Preserve the use of this instrument for holy and evangelical purposes throughout its existence. Constitute it an aid to summoning sinners to repentance, to comforting the brokenhearted, to cleansing the defiled, and to stimulating the faith and worship of the saints. May the celestial chords afford us a foretaste of the heavenly fellowship we shall ultimately enjoy with them in whose memory this organ and these chimes are dedicated and with all Thy saints who have worshipped in this sanctuary and are now in glory. All this we pray in the name and for the glory of Jesus Christ, our Lord. Amen.

The organ was given in memory of Albert O. Wilson by the Wilson family and members of Park Street Church.

Albert O. Wilson was born in 1887 in Cambridge, Massachusetts, where he was educated, graduating from M.I.T. in 1911 as civil engineer. He was the founder and president of the A. O. Wilson Structural Steel Co., fabricators and erectors of structural steel. He died in 1955.

A great part of his life and thinking was devoted to service for God and man. He was a member, a trustee and a treasurer of Park Street Church, which he loved. He was a gifted worker in many charitable organizations. One of the great joys of his life was in the realm of music. He possessed a fine tenor voice and led the singing of groups. Because of his love of music and his Christian faith, it is fitting that a memorial exist for him in this superb new organ of Park Street Church.

The Cathedral Chimes of the organ were given in loving memory of Harry Lee Jones by his family.

Mr. Harry Lee Jones died in November 1936, after a long identification with Park Street Church as member and trustee. He was a partner in Chase and Sanborn Company, and used his influence and means for the glory of God and the good of his fellow man. He served on numerous boards, including that of Gordon College of Theology and Missions. The musical interests of Mr. Jones were of the finest taste and are maintained by his wife and daughter, who initiated and aided the movement for the purchase of this organ. The Cathedral Chimes will bring the instrument to perfection.
